

I will stand strong in Washington while advocating for you. When you vote for me, do not think of it as voting for a person/party, but for principles of freedom, integrity, and values that match your own.

"We the People" want an America where freedom rings and where children play in our neighborhoods without threat of danger.

Inflation is at an all-time high and families want to be free to buy necessities for their loved ones without having to put them on credit.

Parents want to be free from worrying about what social issues their children are being taught in school rather than striving for academic excellence.

This administration's soft on crime policies have directly contributed to incentivizing criminals. Citizens/business owners deserve to live free from fear of theft and chaos in the streets.

As a school board trustee, I defended parents' rights to choose for their children. As a former County Supervisor, I consistently opposed the closing of businesses, schools, and destructive mandates.

As a blue-collar worker and current small business owner, I will embolden policies that will keep small business the muscle of the American economy.

When you elect me to Congress, I will advocate for a balanced federal budget and push to reign in the out-of-control Administrative State. I will defend national sovereignty by ensuring our border is secure; a secure border will disrupt human trafficking and the overwhelming influx of drugs. I will fight to restore the rule of law and equal justice.
